

Curé of Ars School

February 15, 2003

To whom it may concern:

This past fall our faculty at Cure of Ars Catholic School was treated to a wonderful in-service program entitled, "You Can Make A Difference". The presenter, Scott Huse, displayed a fresh, dynamic personality with enthusiasm that brought you literally right out of your chair. The energy that he brought into the room was truly amazing. He commanded our attention immediately and held us captive for the next hour. Scott was extremely honest in sharing parts of his life with us and was visible truth that we, as teachers, could indeed make a difference in someones' life. The message he was bringing to us was loud and clear. Scotts' delivery was exciting and inspirational, along with being informative. What a magnificent public speaker!

I personally was touched by Scotts' presentation. He was able to reach deep within my heart to rekindle that spark that I have for teaching that might have been dimming after twenty-six years on the job. Scott made me a recipient of an award. A tribute to me from past students. A CD containing various songs whose theme of "You Can Make A Difference", was told through a variety of complimentary quotes that he had obtained from interviewing people from my past teaching experiences. I felt truly honored and appreciated Scotts' conscientious efforts to make that award possible.

Scott Huse is truly a gifted individual. He is dedicated to a cause and relentless to pursue a project to a successful conclusion. A message was given and received in a manner that conveys what a loving, caring person Scott Huse is. He has unlimited potential in the forum of inspirational public speaking. A true talent.

Sincerely,
